Böttcher and Brissett: the strength of two rolled into one

The merger of Böttcher Australia and Brissett Rollers gives local customers all the benefits of local manufacturing backed by the global expertise of the world's leading roller technology company.

The combination of the two companies' resources working together in Australia and New Zealand delivers:

- Local roller manufacturing to ensure continuity of supply and improved lead times
- Premium products for an expanded range of graphic arts applications encompassing commercial print, web offset, heatset and packaging
- World-leading technology founded on centuries of European manufacturing excellence
- Enhanced customer services backed by local support and knowledge.

 A newly-opened facility in Sydney housing the two companies will see the manufacturing expertise of Brissett Rollers kept in-house, continuing a tradition of industry knowledge and craftsmanship.

A celebrated past, a positive future

Böttcher and Brissett Rollers are two family-owned companies built on a long history of valued customer relationships, in-depth knowledge and expert service.

Together, the newly-merged companies aim to build on the success of the past and create a stronger future. Being family-owned, they are focused on the long-term sustainability of the industry for future generations.

Father and son, Terry and Craig Brissett, are both actively involved in the operations of the combined companies, maintaining an ongoing connection with the local graphic arts industry which spans several decades.
